

The Department of Philosophy and the Department of European and Public International Law invite to a

LECTURE OF PROFESSOR MASHOOD A. BADERIN

School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London
Islam and Human Rights: Towards an Inclusive Universalism

and the

BOOK PRESENTATION

Islam and International Law.

Engaging Self-Centrism from a Plurality of Perspectives

Marie-Luisa Frick & Andreas Th. Müller, University of Innsbruck

with Classical Ottoman Maqâm Music by Denis Mete followed by a Reception

Thursday, 7 November 2013, 6:30 p.m.

Claudiana, Herzog-Friedrich-Straße 3

Mashood A. Baderin is Professor of Law at the School of Law, SOAS, University of London, where he teaches and researches in Human Rights and Islamic Law. He holds a First Class Combined LLB (Hons) Degree in Common Law & Islamic Law (UDUSok, Nigeria), an LLM Degree in Public International Law (Nottingham, UK) and a PhD Degree in Human Rights and Islamic Law (Nottingham, UK). He is a qualified Barrister & Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Nigeria and was appointed as the UN Independent Expert on the situation of human rights in the Sudan in 2012 by the UN Human Rights Council. He has published widely in his subject area.

Contact:

Ass.-Prof. Dr. Marie-Luisa Frick, marie-luisa.frick@uibk.ac.at.

Ass.-Prof. Dr. Andreas Th. Müller, LL.M., andreas.mueller@uibk.ac.at.

Further Information:

<http://www.brill.com/islam-and-international-law>

REPUBLIC OF AUSTRIA
FEDERAL MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR

